WEST NILE IN THE NEWS - AGAIN

WEST NILE DISEASE. The West Nile Virus is a mosquito-borne flavivirus. Horses and animals are at higher risk, but in the event of a human infection, it can be devastating. Most infections result from the bite of an infected mosquito, although it has also been transmitted through blood transfusions and organ/tissue transplants. Incubation generally lasts from 3-7 days. It is estimated that 80% of humans who are infected by the virus never manifest any symptoms. The other 20% can experience anything from mild flu-like symptoms to extreme fatigue and weakness, achy muscles and joints, swollen lymph glands, sensitivity to light and skin rashes. About 2% of those fall into the more serious category, including symptoms ranging from headache, paralysis, meningitis, encephalitis, convulsions and coma, potentially resulting in death.

Mediral does not offer the WNV nosode, but there are a number of other classical remedies available from Mediral that may be suitable upon repertorization. These include Aconitum, Apis, Artnica montana, Baptisia, Belladonna, Bryonia, Bufo, Camphora, Causticum, Crotalus horridus, Eupatorium perfoliatum, Ferrum Phosphoricum, Gelsemium, Hypericum, Lachesis, Mercurius Sulphuricus, Natrum Muriaticum, Pulsatilla, Pyrogenium, Rhus toxicodendron, Silica, Stramonium and Sulphur. Symptom-specific repertorization is the best way to address the individual WNV symptom picture with every client.

Before the media blows this threat out of proportion (more than they already have), lets put it into perspective. The risk of infection is low, and the chances of becoming severely ill from an infection are even lower. Since 1999, there have been less than 1,000 deaths in the US due to WNV. Contrast that with the 200,000 are hospitalized and 36,000 people die every year in the United States – from the flu. Yes, WNV can be serious, but it is relatively uncommon.

There isn't a magic bullet (allopathic or natural) to either prevent or treat West Nile Disease. The best prevention includes an extra B-Vitamin complex in your diet (the mosquitoes don't like the odor), avoiding standing water (where mosquitoes like to breed), keeping your immune system toned (Mediral's Defense Med) and using natural insect repellents like oil of lemon eucalyptus (avoid DEET-containing repellents, N,N-diethyl-m-toluamide has been associated with skin irritations, seizures and toxic encephalopathy). Planning ahead is still the best course of action, and summer isn't over yet.

Some of the Geo remedies work within the homotoxicological and Chinese models of illness and disease. A brief review of their terminology and framework may help understand the Geo remedies.

Homotoxicology is a theory of disease developed by Dr. Hans-Heinrich Reckeweg (1905-1985) which defines illness as the body's response to toxins (i.e. homotoxins) which accumulate in the fluids of the extra-cellular matrix (ECM). Infiltration of toxins into the matrix impedes tissue hygiene and disrupts the flow of nutrients into cells as well as the flow of waste out of cells. The degree of saturation determines the type and severity of the illness. Reckeweg identified six phases of toxicoses: 1) Excretion, 2) Inflammation, 3) Deposition, 4) Impregnation, 4) Degeneration and 6) Dedifferentiation; each phase being defined by specific signs and symptoms, and each being more injurious than the one before. Health is restored by using combination homeopathic formulas to eliminate this toxic overload and rebuild the body's tissues, thus rekindling the body's own vital energy. Deep cellular detoxification and drainage will be the topic of Mediral's November newsletter, look for more detailed coverage then!

The Chinese 5-Element model of medicine is based on fundamental cycles of nature and their discernable patterns of interaction, both nourishing and controlling. The five elements are I-Wood, II-Metal, III-Fire, IV-Water and V-earth, and each corresponds to organs, seasons, emotions and sensations (see below). Homeopathically, the Dr. Recommends Diathesis I-V formulas are designed for clients who demonstrate a predisposition toward an imbalance in one of the elements.

5-Element Table of Correlations

	WATER	WOOD	FIRE	EARTH	METAL
Seasons	Winter	Spring	Summer	Late Summer	Autumn
Qi	Cold	Wind	Heat	Damp	Dry
Yang Organs	Bladder	Gallbladder	Small Intestine	Stomach	Large Intestine
Yin Organs	Kidneys	Liver	Heart	Spleen	Lungs
Sense Organs	Ears	Eyes	Tongue	Mouth	Nose
Body Tissues	Bone	Sinews	Blood Vessels	Muscles	Skin
Emotions	Fear	Anger	Joy/Surprise	Worry	Sadness
Tastes	Salty	Sour	Bitter	Sweet	Spicy

Most of the Geo formulas are very complex combinations designed to support the body's attempts to return itself to homeostatic balance.

Phenolic sensitivity is another category that is addressed by many products in the Geo line. Phenolics are ubiquitous organic compounds that occur in most foods at least in some concentration, and many other household items, such as toiletries, cleaners, perfumes, etc. Many children (and adults) develop a sensitivity or intolerance to one, some or many of the phenolic compounds all around us. Foods particularly high in phenolic compounds include tomatoes, berries, coumarin, apples, peanuts, bananas, oranges, food dyes and milk. These products, combined with some form of the reduced-phenol Feingold-type diet (www.feingold.org) may go a long way toward alleviating the symptoms of phenolic sensitivity (chronic fatigue, sleep disturbances, headaches & migraines, hyperactivity, aggression, reddened face & ears, self injury).

The Geo products are a thoughtfully researched line of Mediral remedies that deserve a place in your practice – please call if you have additional questions, comments or concerns about the Geo line. Thank you.
